

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1894.

NO. 3

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—R. S. Crawford was in Pineville last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keen have another son.

—Monday was county court day and a good crowd was in attendance.

—The fishing season has opened and the boys are catching some nice suckers.

—The young ladies of this place will give an entertainment on Friday evening.

—Little Annie Denham, the youngest daughter of Mr. L. D. Denham, is quite sick.

—Mr. J. W. Sullivan has gone to Cincinnati to lay in his stock of spring goods.

—It is reported that we have a colored candidate for jailer subject to the republican primary.

—Eld. J. E. Terry preached the funeral of W. E. Munney, at his home near Spruceburg, last Sunday.

—The Corbin Enterprise will make another venture in the near future. We hope it will be more successful this time.

—The democratic county committee held a meeting Monday and decided to call a mass meeting June 4th, to nominate candidates for county offices.

—The G. A. R. Post at this place is raising funds to build a monument in the corner of the public square. The county court has given the permission to do so.

—There was some trouble at the Bird Eye mines Monday over working some non union men. The sheriff and five deputies went up and no further trouble is expected.

—Our neighbor, Corbin, is having some trouble over her ordinances but we hope they will soon be gotten in order and that the law-breakers of that section will be punished and whisky selling and drinking will be suppressed.

—Mr. John A. Gibson died of pneumonia near Jellico, last week. Mr. Gibson was a native of N. C., and was a river boss for the Allen Lumber Co., of Pleasant View. He was a model young man in every respect and about 28 years of age.

—Mr. Editor, if you desire to retain any reputation for the truth you should not quote from the Barbourville dispatches. We are sorry we have a man in our midst that has so little regard for the truth and respect for the reputation of the section of the State in which he lives as to report the people guilty of such dark and bloody crimes as he does when he knows they are false.

Whisky Didn't Do It.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

Reading between the lines of the "Appeal to the Mothers, Wives," etc., one can easily see that the impression to be made on the public is that whisky was the cause of the trouble between the brothers, John and Alex Traylor. This I emphatically deny.

That whisky is an evil, and that the suppression of the "nefarious traffic" would result in incalculable good to all humanity, I do believe and assert. I could not respect a woman who did not advocate prohibition in all of its phases, regardless of the constitutionality of the thing, which she does not even care to understand. But to hear a man being accused of being drunken, because in a moment of passion and anger, he perpetrated an act that to him of all others would have proved a source of keen regret and remorse, had it resulted fatally, though aggravated and harassed until forbearance had, in this case, ceased to be a virtue—this I must say in my husband's defense: he was not then, nor has he been at any time during our married life of 15 years, at all under the influence of liquor. The world may brand him a Cain and "say all manner of evil against him falsely," but I, who know that behind his rough exterior there dwells an innate nobleness of soul that would put to shame the lives of those who speak thus of him, were those lives and acts an open book, can say to him in the words of the poet:

"Oh, what was love made for, if 'tis not the same
Through joy and through sorrow, thro' glory and shame?
Thou hast called me thine angel in moments of bliss,
Still thine angel I'll be 'mid the horrors of this,
Through the furnace, unshrinking, thy steps to pursue,
And shield thee, and save thee, or perish thereto."

CLARA DOTY TRAYLOR.

Now is the time.—To select a place figure on a route and complete arrangements for your next summer's vacation. The maps, time tables and guide books, issued by the Wisconsin Central Lines and containing a list of the most beautiful and healthful resorts in the north-west, will assist you materially in doing this. They are mailed free upon application to Jas. C. Pond, Genl. Pass. Agt., Milwaukee, Wis. Send for them.

—Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the New York board of health, says the grip is likely soon to disappear for a generation or so. Let us hope he knows what he is talking about.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mt. Vernon now has three drug stores.

—Three candidates are to be voted for at the republican primary for county judge.

—John McPherson killed a large gopher from a flock of 18 wild turkeys three miles south of town.

—Mr. A. Pennington has swapped his hotel property to W. H. Brown, who in turn sold to parties here. The house will be remodeled and made into store rooms below and offices above.

—Why is it the city papers call all moonshiners mountaineers? Are there no shiners elsewhere? There are more of them outside the mountain limits than in them, so far as this State is concerned, but probably not so many of them are caught, for reasons that we know not.

—John Pearl stopped here on his way from Garrard to London a few days ago. Mr. O. F. Swinney left for Missouri on Wednesday. Cannifax, the "back motion" fingered man, was here from London yesterday. W. J. Newcomb has returned from a trip to Cincinnati. W. H. Spradlin has returned from the South.

—One of our best friends was lately discovered in a citizen's smoke house at Rowland at 8 o'clock one night with his hand fast in a steel trap. The smoke-house belonged to Breck Graves. Our friend was out of coal and went over to Mr. Graves' and called him up and asked to borrow some coal. He was told to go around to the coal house and get it. It being dark, the smoke house was mistaken for the coal bin. In groping around for the coal, a steel trap got in its work by nabbing a hand. About this time Mr. Graves' dog thought it his duty to assist in thief catching and attacked the coat tails of the intruder. The racket brought out the proprietor, who drove off the dog, released our friend from the trap and took him to the coal house. Ask Fred Mahaffey for particulars.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—Your correspondent, temporarily staying at this place for the present, had a special invitation with many others to attend the golden wedding of Mr. H. H. McAninch. Fifty years ago on last Wednesday, Mr. McAninch led to the altar Miss Melissa Ross. The ceremony was performed by Esquire John Humphrey, in the Rich Hill neighborhood. But few couples have traveled life's dreary road together as harmoniously as Mr. McAninch and his Melissa. On arriving at the hospitable mansion we were met at the door by Mr. McAninch with his face clothed in his happiest smiles, and after a hearty shake of the hand, we were ushered in among his numerous friends, children, grandchildren and other relatives. There was one great grandchild present. Crowding in the hall and parlor, the assembly was soon addressed by our host in a few well-chosen words, followed by Eld. J. Q. Montgomery with appropriate remarks commending Mr. McAninch and his faithful wife for their general worth and good deeds, and their long, laborious and devoted labors together, closing with an impressive prayer. We were then called to the dining room where we found an extension table laden with meats, fowl, tropical fruits, cakes, and in fact every delicacy that the appetite could desire. A good part of the afternoon was consumed by the vast assemblage in doing justice to the table. There are but few better neighbors or more free-hearted men than our venerable friend. A number of valuable golden presents given by the friends and relatives were exhibited in the parlor. Among his many relatives, his nephew, Mr. James McAninch, of Sedalia, Mo., was present. Before the assembly dispersed we were enlightened by several anecdotes of Mr. McAninch's early life and struggles and also some valuable experiences in after years. Long life to Mr. M. and his companion. E. T.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York come from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic Coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, druggist.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs and croup. A. W. Baldrige, Millersville, Ill. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, druggist.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottles. At A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—The protracted meeting at the Baptist church has resulted in a great deal of good so far. Many of the toughest have given their hand to Rev. Borum with the intention of doing better in the future. Bro. Borum is a most interesting speaker and holds his audience from the beginning to the end of his sermon.

—At the republican speaking at Bernstadt colony last week, seats and a stand were placed some distance from the Hotel and when the hour for speaking arrived the crowd refused to leave the beer and go, so the seats had to be brought to them, and then everything went along as merrily as a "St. Patrick's day in the morning."

—In the last issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL there appears a petition signed by 226 married women and over 100 single ladies asking all to vote for prohibition. It will take a brave man to ignore this appeal.

—Rev. J. O. Vaught, of Harrodsburg, will assist Rev. W. F. Taylor in a series of special services to be commenced at the Centenary Methodist church in this city the third Sunday in March. The singing will be under the supervision of Prof. Fogg, of Covington.

—Thomas Caldwell, living near town, was shot Tuesday. He was found to have a bullet hole in the abdomen and will probably die. He persistently refused to tell who shot him, but the neighbors say that he and his wife had an altercation that morning and that she probably inflicted the wound.

The Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL was 22 years old on March 2, and 19 years and one month of that time it has been under the present management. W. P. Walton, its owner, came to Kentucky when a young man and took up the paper when that section of country was full of desperadoes and scoundrels generally. Young Walton, with pluck and right and his paper behind him, waded in boldly to stamp out the lawless class and he did it. He was shot at, wounded and vilified by the class he pursued so relentlessly, but the good people soon flocked to his side, and the passing of the lawless element was finally brought about. No section of the State is better than the territory about Stanford, and its good people are grateful and sensible enough to place much of the responsibility where it belongs.—Courier-Journal.

The INTERIOR JOURNAL has just passed its 22nd birthday and gives promise of many more years of journalistic usefulness and prosperity.—Danville Advocate.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Free bottles sent at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

—Mr. Cal. Nevius met with a painful accident Tuesday morning. He is the distiller at Col. East's, near Buckeye, and while oiling the machinery his clothing caught in a cog wheel. He was drawn into the rapidly moving wheels and would have been instantly killed had not some of the hands rescued him. The left side of his neck was terribly lacerated and his body badly bruised.

THE C. H. & D., Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, is one of the best advertised roads in the country, and what is better, it more than lives up to every promise it makes. Its train service could hardly be improved upon. The coaches are elegant and every comfort is provided. A splendid road bed enables its trains to make the last schedules on time and when you get aboard of them you can rest assured that you will be taken to your destination at the minute fixed. From Cincinnati it is the best and quickest road to Chicago, St. Louis, Toledo and Detroit, besides making a specialty of Western and California business. Direct connections are made from here via the Q. & C., for which road the capable and popular Mr. D. G. Edwards, who now manages the passenger business of the C. H. & D., was formerly general passenger agent. Take the advice of one who knows whereof he speaks and see that your ticket reads via the C. H. & D. when you want to go to points reached by this line.

—Potters at Waco, Madison county, have commenced manufacturing tombstones from potter's clay. They are endeavoring to secure a durable glazing, and if they succeed, it will prove of great advantage to Central Kentucky, the clay of which is of superior quality.

The Hazel Green Academicist can see no cause for thinking of any other man for the office of superintendent of public instruction than the incumbent, Ed Porter Thomson. He has worked faithfully and well and has done a great deal for the public schools of the State. He has done more work than any man who preceded him in the same office, and is to-day the hardest worked official at Frankfort. Let the State give honor to whom honor is due, and elect to succeed himself Professor Thomson, whom the democratic party will surely nominate at the proper time. So here's for Thompson, first, last and all the time.

It is known among the publishers that The Southern Magazine has larger news stand sales in New York than in New Orleans, larger in Boston than in Louisville, and the knowledge would seem to demand a more vigorous interest at home in this its greatest of all publications. It is known that the success of the excellent monthly has been great, even in the South, but it is the comparison that Southerners should feel.
